

ALUMNI FACTS

20/21

EWU has the only undergraduate industrial robotics and automation program in our three-state region. Each year, EWU graduates more engineers than any other regional university in Washington.

45% of the professional educators within a 60-mile radius of campus are EWU alumni, including 2018 National Teacher of the Year, Mandy Manning '98.

The region's largest Young Professionals Network, run by EWU alumni, offers the opportunity for recent and future grads to network with business leaders.

Eastern isn't just turning out top-notch teachers, it also boasts one of the nation's top military commanders, a national radio personality, and New York Times best-selling author among its accomplished alumni.
